The Advertiser says that before the entrance to the harbor can be deepened a costly survey will be needed. We thought Captain Jackson in his thorough and fine work had completed that survey and had not heard that it was ruinously costly. He took over 2,200 soundings by the way before his work was completed, and his map is a very fine one.

The Gussie Telfair brought down about two dozer fine Merino bucks from Woolsey's Alameda Ranch, for Mr. Charles H. Alexander, on Mani. They are in fine condition and will be a valuable addition to stock now on the Islands. One young man was sed what kind of sheep they were, and promptly

This paper is sometimes rushed to get off in time the Libelds on Tuesday afternoon, in conse quence of which a few last items are not care fully read, and the result is sometimes melancholy to behold. We felt ourself 'waned' and our 'wind was knocked out on reading that note about the Ketten Concert last week.

Probably no one longs so heartily for the con pletion of the proposed Music Hall as those hapless individuals who sat disconsolate in the theatre iast Saturday evening, holding umbrellas over their heads to keep off the fast descending drops which sifted through the sieve—beg pardon—roof-celling overhead. It looked like an unusually respectable

What is the matter with our town water? It does not flow with the force it ought in view of the large rainfall of the past winter. It is rumored that nuanu Valley now supplies the whole system, that e Walkiki Reservoir has again lost its bottom. Eather porons soil up that way, and a reservoir must depend on its own bottom if it is expected to hold water.

The Gussie Telfair is to go to-day and as she has so much the start of the Zealandia, and is a fast vessel, letters by her will probably arrive over before the mail by the latter vessel. It is quite possible that she may reach San Francisco before the City of New York leaves to come down. Therefore if any one wants to write and get a prompt answer, patronize the Telfair.

We know how it is ourself the supper constitutional. Thanks, kind sirs, for this trimming of algaroba branches.

The artesian well on the Marques' place progresses slowly, but, as we hear, satisfactorily. It is now down over 220 feet, piping in, and water within twenty feet of the surface, of a good quality. It is to be hoped that the well will prove a success. If it does not flow, it will not of necessity be unsuccessful, for good water from a never failing source may be pumped out.

Last evening the German war vessel Vineta Commander Zirzow, arrived from Panama, en route for Japan. The Vineta is of the larger class of ships, and will remain a short time in our har bor before proceeding on her vavaor. This search ber before proceeding on her voyage. This vessel, it will be remembered, visited our port in April, 1876. We are unable to present our readers with a full list of her officers this morning.

A new street has been opened west of the Gov ernment Builidag. It runs from King to Queen street (which is the proper thing to do), and will be quite a convenience, particularly when the Mu-sical Hall is completed on that corner. Ten or twelve feet were given from the premises surround-ing Alliolani Hale, and the street, as we judge, will be about twenty or twenty-five feet wide.

We saw the other day, some sections of portable railway or trains, for use on plantations or else where. They are in lengths of nine or ten feet, are quite light and easily handled, and appear to be just what is wanted for use in cane fields, or fir other agricultural purposes. It is said that one of the Kauai plantations proposes to introduce this new and convenient method of transportation. Its success will be watched with interest.

The Forest Queen arrived on Monday morning bringing down the rest of that mail which the pub lic was led to suppose was on the Gussie Telfair. A large proportion of her mail consisted of the monthly magazines, which are always looked for-ward to by the reading portion of the community with pleasure. The bark Kalakasa arrived on Thursday th 15th, and on the following Thursday she had discharged her cargo and filled up with sugar, rice &c., as return freight, and could have left by Fri day; which is pretty quick work. She finally left however on Sunday morning. Capt Jenks believes that he has at last got on the scent of the Chinaman who owned that wood in which the thirty nine tins of opium were found and which caused the vessel so much trouble.

However, we will not despise the day of small things. If private citizens will now join in, placing lights before their re-spective premises, it will help the general effect wonderfully.

Perhaps we are going to have a plank road along to see much display here—may be that sandy strip from the church at Waikiki-kai to the Park entrance-at least so says rumor, and it is to be hoped that rumor is correct, for some kind of a way is needed. We are a share-holder ourself, but have only been to that park once, on account of our merciful feelings towards our beast. Let the lumber dealers prepare to put in their lowest bids for this job, and let it be no job

If any one doubts that Honolulu is not growing and taking unto herself new garments, let him go downg the lars unpleasantness in the about the streets and count the new houses finish ed and unfinished. Their number is legion (a littie one). Our friend Bickerton has at last com-pleted his residence on the corner of Pilko and king streets, and taken possession thereof, and it would be hard to find a prettier or more home like place. It is only to be regretted that we were not invited to the house warming so that we could have told all about the interior lovliness.

The display of articles for sale was fine, and easily obtained purchasers at fair rates. The Royal Hawaiian Band was in attendance and discoursed sweet music during the evening. Altogether the Anglican Church Bazar was a decided success, and great credit is due to the ladies who had the management of it. Bret Harte's celebrated "Heathen Chinee" was suggested at the Police Court in a most laughable way the other day. A Chinese witness had the stand and testified relative to certain entries in his books. The books were required, and everybody expected an adjournment to get them, but John by a deft movement of his arm suddenly produced his book of accounts, and no small affair either, from There will be a special meeting of Hawaiian his sleeve; whereat the grave, dignified judge, counsel and audience smiled audibly; a proceedcounsel and audience similed audioly; a proceed-ing which John did not understand, for he looked enquiringly around as though he thought he had done the most natural thing in the world, and he probably had—for a Celestial.

Shipping masters are proverbially a har' set, or they are very much slandered, let us hope the latter. At any rate they generally have to deal with a rough and hard crowd. But complaints against them ought now and then to be investigated. They frequently send men away while drunk so that any chance of complaint is hushed, but sometimes connections fall and unpleasant remarks are made, as the other day, when several men were put on board of a schooner beautifully drunk, but she did not go and finally they began to come to and complain that they had paid the shipping master $7 for cabin fare but they were evidently shipped for a dark massage. a deck passage.

HAWAII. Kohala is going ahead in the application of steam to the transportation question. The Kohala Sugar Company now have two traction engines which are doing splendid work saving much labor and bother besides cutting down expenses materially. A few days ago another was shipped from Honolulu for Mr. Hind and there is still another in the district and all worth more than their cost.

A number of Lascars and others recently came down from Callfornia for the Papaikou plantation. They are a very good class of men, and appear to be both intelligent and good natured. It remains to be seen how they will like cultivating sugar cane. It is a pity that this business is not divided more than it is with small cultivators to be ground on shares. The country would be the better for it.

The work of rebuilding the Waihee mill is push ing forward with energy; the debris of the old has been cleared away and a new structure will soon stand in its place. For the new drying machinery two pair, four of Weston's recent improved pattern centrifugals have been secured.

Steam is now used for plowing on Spreckel's plantation on the Waikapu Commons. It is a new motive power for this country and its use will be watched with great interest. It can be used for level country or any place, not very badly broken, with great advantage and it is not unlikely that other places will follow the energetic and progres-sive example of Maui.

KAUAL. The first sugar has been made at Adams'-Kilauea plantation. It is of a superior quality and the yield is very encouraging, being over four tons to the acre. Success to our genial auctioneer.

A Herald Washington special says: An American resident here, who has interests in California, has addressed Congress some facts and figures relating to the commerce of California with China, which deserve general attention. He shows to members of Congress that in 1878 California sent to China, in round numbers, 209,000 barrels of flour and in 1879, 235,000; that, besides this, China takes more than half of the whole quicksilver product of the State. Should the proposition now before Constitution in the state of the state. than half of the whole quicksilver product of the State. Should the proposition now before Congress for double duty on Chinese rice be adopted China would doubtless levy a duty on flour, which is now duty free. The San Francisco Bulletin and Morket Revice naturally oppose the movement as very injurious to important industries of their State, but the country at large has also interests in Chinese commerce, as the Pall Mall Gazette of London recently made plain. It said: During the last four years, ending 1877, British imports into China of manufactured cotton and wool have been nearly stationary. After falling in 1878 from 6,625,511 pieces to 4,611,180. The decrease has not indeed, been only in quantity but in value which has fallen with the quantity. In these four years there was a no less steady and significant increase in the imports of American goods at Shanghai. Tory journals devote themselves to inventing ingenious theories to account for defeat. The depression of trade, bad harvests, democratic caprice, Liberal misrepresentations and other fictitions causes are assigned. The real cause is the profound dissatisfaction of the people with Lord Beaconsfield's policy and method of government. Lord Beaconsfield appealed to the country to support the principle of English ascendancy in Europe and Asia. Other causes contributed in a minor degree, but this was the main element of the controversy, while the weariness of sham imperialism was the chief factor.

I do not feel induced to relieve you of your office, because you believe yourself unable in a particular case to carry out the task alloted to you by the Constitution. I must, on the contrary, leave it to you to submit to me and subsequently to the Bundesrath proposals calculated to bring about a constitutional solution of the conflict of duties of this description."
